

Oifig an Taoisigh
Office of the Taoiseach

I am delighted to have this opportunity to thank the Irish Network Boston (IN-Boston) for all the support its board and members give to promoting closer economic and business ties between the island of Ireland and Boston. The historic links between Boston and Ireland are well known and celebrated. With the passage of time those links, while changing, are actually growing stronger.

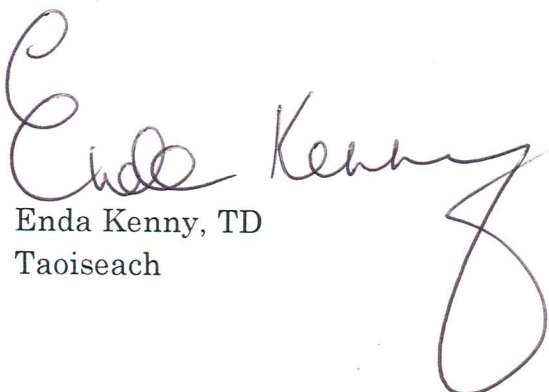

Investment into Ireland from companies based in Boston and its environs has never been stronger. Boston is increasingly the entry point to the US for Irish companies seeking a foothold in the American market facilitated by the frequency of flights between us.

I am pleased to say that Ireland is making progress on the road to economic recovery and I believe we can, once again, look to the future with confidence and conviction. IN-Boston and its members have a key role in our work. Whether you are Irish, of Irish heritage, or a contributor to promoting trade and investment between our two regions, your contribution is important and valued.

It was my great pleasure to meet the board members of IN-Boston on March 16th 2014 at the Consulate General. That event provided a welcome opportunity to thank you personally for your work for the island of Ireland. I am happy to take this opportunity to renew my thanks.

Guím gach rath ar obair IN-Boston sa bhliain 2015 agus sa toadhchái

With best wishes for 2015 and the future.

Enda Kenny, TD
Taoiseach
